Dear Guest,

Earthquake Safety

As you may be aware, New Zealand lies on the boundary of the Pacific and Australian tectonic plates. This means that each year there are a significant number of quakes that are big enough to be felt. Your safety is of utmost importance in the event of an earthquake – so please take a moment to read the following recommendations.

If you are inside the building:

- Move no more than a few steps to then drop, cover and hold. Cover your head, neck, and your entire body if possible, under a sturdy table or desk. If there is no shelter nearby, get down near an interior wall (or next to low-lying furniture that will not fall on you), and cover your head and neck with your arms and hands. Be aware of objects that may start to fall around you.
- Do not evacuate or leave your room – hold on to your shelter (or your position to protect your head and neck) until the shaking stops.
- Do not use the elevators!
- Keep Calm – The hotel is built to a very new Earthquake specification.

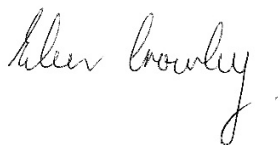

When the earthquake stops:

- Use the fire stairs and proceed to the lobby.
- Keep away from exposed electrical wires and other hazards.
- Advise staff of trapped or missing people.

We have an up to date Local Government Emergency Action Guide located at reception. All our staff are fully trained in this manual and will help you during this event. We will try to answer all your questions, in reality we will know as much as you, until we have contacted authorities or vice versa.

To get information in a crisis is difficult, telephone lines are congested, the best medium is portable radio which we have.

Please be patient, we will let you know what the current situation is as soon as we know it.

General Manager

In Room Environmental Policy

Hotels and the environment in the past tend to have had conflicting interests. We take for granted the normal luxuries of a hotel – endless hot water, clean linen and towel changes daily, large numbers of electric lights burning constantly, however we realise these are no longer responsible environmental actions

West Plaza Hotel has taken the following initiatives to help minimise the environmental impact:

- Recycling of paper (including newspapers), cardboard, plastics, polystyrene and glass
- Our frying oil from the kitchen is being converted into bio diesel
- We are using as many energy efficiency light bulbs where possible within the hotel
- All our guest amenities are biodegradable, paraben free and not tested on animals. Soaps are formulated from vegetable-based ingredients and liquids from high quality biodegradable ingredients and organic extracts.
- Our Dream green pillows are made from recycled plastic bottles. The Dream green initiative is a sponsor of Keep New Zealand Beautiful.
- We use biodegradable bags in our rooms for dry cleaning and to collect your rubbish. Our house keeping department also sorts out the plastics, newspapers, glass etc for recycling
- Recycling bins are located on the ground floor foyer and level one foyer for guest use.
- On request, paper straws are served in City Bar and Dining.
- City Dining and room service no longer use plastic single serve spreads and condiments.

HOW YOU CAN HELP US

To help the Hotel better manage its responsible environmental actions you can help us in the following ways:

- Hang your towels up if you don't wish for these to be changed daily
- Switch off the lights and electrical appliances in your room when the room is not in use
- Put next to your rubbish bin in your room any recycling that we can help you with
- Please let us know if you would prefer to not have your sheets changed while staying.

Thank you for helping us to do our part towards committing to an environmentally responsible society and for helping us reduce our carbon footprint
